

How to teach kids about money webinar

Most parents want to teach their kids about money but just don't know where to start. This is often because when young they were never taught about money themselves.

This live webinar empowers parents to teach their kids about money in fun and simple way. They also get to learn more about money themselves, without the fear of their financial knowledge being judged.

This webinar will cover:

- ✿ The importance of teaching kids, as young as 4 years old, about money
- ✿ How to teach kids the different uses of money in an engaging way
- ✿ Pocket Money – The most powerful financial education tool in the world!
- ✿ The 3 Rules of Wealth all kids should learn to follow
- ✿ How to teach your kids about the stock market (parents love this part!)

Blue Tree Savings focuses on helping parents teach their kids about money. As well as running workshops for companies (including those in the Fortune 500), we also write a weekly blog covering a new money related topic to teach kids and have released a best-selling children's money book, Grandpa's Fortune Fables.

Webinar is 1 hour (including Q&A) for a cost of US$750. Please contact will@bluetreesavings.com
